NAL NOTE BY THE FIRST MEMBER OF COUNCIL.

SUBJECT

Handbook of Instructions for Minor Muzrai Institutions.

B In Government Order No. 2514-28/Muz.371-13-2 dated 2nd April 1917, Muzrai Institutions were classified according to their income into -- three classes, and the Muzrai Superintendent was directed to submit - for the orders of Government detailed instructions for the management and supervision of each of these classes of institutions.

2. In pursuance of the above order the Muzrai Superintendent has submitted a set of subsidiary instructions in the form of a handbook for the management of Minor Muzrai Institutions, which consist of all institutions with an income ranging from Rs. 100/- to Rs. 1,000/- a year. These instructions have been examined in detail by the Deputy Commissioners and a few select Sub Division Officers and Amildars, and in the light of the criticisms offered by these officers the draft has now been finally revised and in places amplified.

3. The handbook as now revised is suitable, and has been circulated to and passed by the Members of Council.

Similar instructions for the supervision of Village Institutions have it may be mentioned, already been approved and issued. A separate handbook of instructions for the management of Major Institutions has also been prepared and is under examination.

4. The issue of the handbook of instructions for Minor institutions may be graciously approved.

To

Sir,

With reference to your letter No. 2207-214 Muz. 421-17-2 dated 6th March 1918 forwarding for opinion and suggestions a copy of the draft hand book embodying subsidiary instructions for the management of Minor Muzrai Institutions, I have the honor to state as follows:-

1. The introduction of these new rules, if properly worked would certainly improve the management of Minor Muzrai Institutions.

2. These Minor Muzrai Institutions are proposed to be left to the care of Dharmadarsis appointed by the Deputy Commissioner.

There is a large number of registers and returns prescribed and I feel doubtful whether their maintenance and submission can be ensured. In a few of these Minor Muzrai institutions, there are shanbhogues but in a majority of them, there is only one servant, viz, the Pujari who will not be able to maintain the returns and registers even if he be capable of doing so. And it is difficult to expect Dharmadarsis to write up temple accounts. Hence, some agency for keeping these accounts at least in institutions where there is no shanbhogue appears to be quite necessary.

3. The rules provide that extracts of more notable suggestions in in inspection and visitors' books, should be sent to the Amildars (by Dharmadarsis) once in 6 months with a note of action taken. The period of six months appears to be too long to serve any useful purpose. If the extracts are sent timely say once a month, this will be more useful. This would enable Amildars to verify, where necessary, the action taken by the Dharmadarsis. The inspection and visitors' books may be taken up to Taluk Office when drawing the establishment pay etc.

4. It is proposed to appoint committees with powers of management and supervision on one or more religious or charitable institutions " as may be prescribed by rules". The rules might be made flexible so as to give latitude to suit them to each institution, bearing also in view the status and capacity of the members who might constitute the committee.

5. Under Rule 3 Section V "it shall be the clear duty of the Amildar to systematically inspect all the Minor Muzrai Institutions in the Taluk, at least, once a year with a programme arranged beforehand and submit a report of his inspection in the appended form (Form XII)". This is a desirable course but to relieve him from the heavy work in this connection he might be given the help of a Muzrai Inspector on Rs.30 or Rs.35/- a month. This amount may be apportioned among all the Muzrai Institutions in the Taluk.

Out of the 14 Taluks (including French Rocks Sub Taluk) only the marginally noted Taluks have Muzrai Gumasthas In the other Taluks there is no gumastha to attend to Muzrai correspondence. The introduction of the proposed rules will add considerably to the volume of correspondence work in in the Taluk Office. Every Taluk must be given a Muzrai Gumastha. In some Taluks having a large number of such institutions even two hands may be necessary.

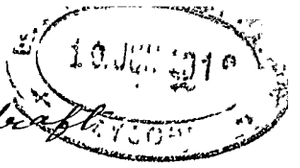
Hand Book Report



I have carefully gone through the draft Hand book of instructions and I concur with the opinion that if the rules thereon prescribed are brought into force, the Mysore Management work will have a systematic basis to improve the administration. There are at present too many institutions in the Mysore Taluks, for one clerk to handle the accounts of, to any degree of satisfaction. When the rules are brought into force it will require at least two clerks one on Rs 20/- and another on Rs 15/- to cope with the work if the rules are to be worked with any degree of satisfaction.

would be impossible.

I would therefore suggest that in regard to these and other institutions Rules a, b and c (Page 8 + 9 of the Hand book) may not be enforced.

With this reservation I would support the introduction of the Rules in this Taluk.

Sir,

Your Circular order No: 577 of 17-18 dated 15-3-18 calling for my opinion about the introduction of certain Subsidiary Rules for the better management of the Minor Mutts and Institutions in the Taluk.

With reference to the above I beg to state that I carefully went over the Rule book of Rules kindly forwarded to me with the order under reply. No doubt these Rules would answer very well if there is adequate establishment for the purpose. There are only 4 recognised institutions in the Taluk with an income exceeding Rs 1000/- per annum. Of these, the temple of Mallikarjuna Swami at Bettadapur has an annual income of about Rs 6000/- In regard to this institution the proposed Rules may fully be brought into force. Sri Lakshminarasimha-swami temple at Hunsur and Masanikamma at Periyapatna are not very popular and their income may be taken to be roughly at about Rs 200 and Rs 150 respectively.

Nor are there very many Archaka Kattle items. There is only one servant-the Pujari in each of these temples and he is not capable of maintaining all the returns and Registers proposed to be introduced.

There is no competition for the post of Dharmadarsi. They cannot be expected to write up temple accounts daily. Any descipline or Control in regard to these persons for the preparation of their ~~accounts~~ daily and monthly accounts

Sir,

With reference to your memo
No: C.577/17-18 of the 15th March 1918, calling for opinion on the draft handbook of Minor Irrigation Institutions, I beg to state that my experience of such institutions being very limited and practically confined to the few situated in this Taluk whose income is not very much over Rs 100 in each case and where management is in a deplorable condition. I feel great diffidence in submitting my views which is nothing more than accepting the draft in toto. It contains the essential points of the Irrigation Regulation and Rules thereunder with precise headings for the registers to be maintained suggestion to improve it is possible except from one with vast experience

Yet I should like to bring to your kind notice the fact that the numerous registers with manifold headings are not likely to be correctly maintained by the people in charge of minor institutions as the work involves a good deal of patient labour. This will naturally make the inspecting officer's work harder. However as there are very few institutions in this taluk the task of bringing them into working order in accordance with the new rules cannot be an insurmountable difficulty if constant attention is bestowed and if the hearty co-operation of dharmdarsees is secured.

The draft Rule was carefully gone through

In page 10 para. 8 it is stated that "extracts of more notable suggestions should be sent to the Auditor (by Dharmadarsis) once in six months with a note of action taken". The period of 6 months seems to be too long a period. If the extracts are sent once a quarter there will be some time for the Auditors to verify the action taken by the Dharmadarsis and to add a note in their "Administration in my humble opinion" Report. In other respects the Rule need no modification.

The undersigned have carefully read through the hand-book and found that it covers the ground embodied therein and if the rules can be strictly enforced, it would certainly conduce to the better management of the various Municipal institutions, the affairs of which are now in a chaotic condition. But the fact remains that the Amildars on the mid-st of their multifarious duties cannot pay adequate attention to the affairs of these institutions. Unless substantial relief be given to the Amildars, it serves no useful purpose if they are burdened with the inspection work. If it is not proposed to relieve the Amildars of some of their other duties, the undersigned begs to suggest that the Taluk Registrars be entrusted with all duties connected with Municipal institutions. The hand book discloses.

Sir,

With reference to your letter No. 2207/Muz.421-17-2 dated 6th March 1918 forwarding for an expression of opinion, a copy of a draft hand book containing subsidiary instructions for the Minor Muzrai Institutions, I have the honor to state that the subsidiary instructions now drafted are well suited and may be adopted.

2. But, it seems to be better if a chapter regarding the general qualifications of the Archaks and the Dharmadarsies, is also added in the hand book to make it a book of ready reference and the hand book published in Kannada also.

3. With regard to the management of the Minor Muzrai Institutions, I think it necessary to delegate to the Dharmadarsies the powers of collection of temple dues to some extent, subject of course to the supervision of the Amildar of the Taluk concerned, as it would give considerable relief to the Officers noted in section 19 of the Muzrai Regulation, and it would also facilitate prompt recovery of outstanding arrears.

4. Letter No. 206/Mis. dated 13th April 1918, from the Sub Division Officer, Sakalespur, furnishing his opinion in the matter is enclosed herein for information. The reports called for from the Sub Division Officer, Channarayapatna and the Amildars of Hassan and Belur Taluk could not be furnished, as they they have not been received in this office from them till now.

The Sub Division Officer Sagar is of opinion that as there are a few members of Mysgr institutions in the taluk may not be possible for the amildars to inspect in one year the period may be extended to two years.

3. As the work of the Taluk establishment has increased considerably and the maintenance of Registers and accounts in the forms prescribed in the draft Rules is an additional work which cannot be attended to satisfactorily by the existing staff the appointment of a clerk on Rs 20/- to each Taluk is essential.

4. The reports received from the Sub Division Officer Sagar and the Amildars of Honnali, Shikarpur and Channagiri are herewith submitted for reference.

Sir, With reference to your No. O.C. 3943 (Rev) 16-17 Dated the 19th instant, I have the honour to state that I have gone carefully through the draft Hand Book containing rules for the management of Forests in Mysore Districts along with the Forest Regulations. The instructions in the Hand Book are drawn up so carefully that [illegible] are also [illegible]

Dance Dan of
they may well be adopted in practice

2. I deem it necessary to state that in Mahad the minor Muzrai institutions are so many, that it is not possible to bring them within the range of inspection of the Amildar once a year. The period of inspection in Mahad by the Amildar should be extended to two years, as the nature of the Country, the distance to be covered, and the large no: of such institutions, make it difficult to do the work within a year. I am rather doubtful whether the management of these minor institutions, could safely be left solely to the Dharmadarsis. For a year or two to start with, they need the Constant care & attention of Government Officers.

3. I have also to bring to your notice the fact that the maintenance of the Registers and forms prescribed by these rules entail heavy work in the Taluk office, and cannot be attended to, by the existing Establishment Where such institutions exceed fifty in any Taluk I think it necessary that be sanctioned, if really the procedure laid down in the Rules has to be practically given effect to.

Adverting to your reference
No 3943 Revenue 1916-17 dated the 17th
March 1918 forwarding copy of Draft-rules for the exercise of Control and Supervision over minor Mutts and Institutions and calling for any suggestion on the same I beg to state
as follows:-

* 1 Wrongful alienation of lands granted for the keep of religious or charitable institutions
2 Restoration of lands to devadaya Inams.

In the Draft-rules referred under reference of the Inam Regulation on the marginally noted items of destruction has

taken to grade between Irrigation Tanks for upkeep of any religious or charitable institution and those granted to religious and charitable institutions. In the former case it is doubtful to hold that the former class of tanks will not come under the purview of the Chief Commissioners Notification no 266 dated 17-11-1877 referred to in page 4 of the Hanamkonda inquestion under the heading Restoration of alienated Devadaya tanks. It is only such of the tanks as were granted for the upkeep of Charities and Musafirkhanas and governed by the Rules published in Appendix G of the Land Revenue Rules of 1890 (vide page 76 of the new Land Revenue Rules) Even in these rules there is no provision to deal with cases of misappropriation of the produce of the tank (vide para 8 of the rules) and this provision is such as to permit of special treatment being given in exceptional cases. Hence no new provision seems necessary to deal with the alienate of either kind of tank.

In regard to the alienation of the former Class of Grants it must be stated that the alternative proposal to cancel the whole tenure and to direct the assessment recovered to be handed over for the benefit of the original institution suggested in the Hand book is not of much use as it does not give the full or even a fair portion of the benefit that would have accrued to the institution from the produce of the land. Also the transfer of the assessment from Government to the institution after cancelling the tenure would be in the nature of a fresh assignment not contemplated in revenue law. This proposal seems to have been contemplated in cases where adverse possession of property for over 12 years may be proved. But I fear that, in a majority of cases of alienation, the adverse possession may likely to extend for over 12 years and if this concession is extended there will be very little likelihood of the Grants of this Class being resorted for the benefit the original institution. As in the rules published in Appendix G. of Land Revenue Rules provision has been made for treatment of exceptional Cases. This clause of 12 years adverse possession seems unnecessary and inexpedient. I would therefore suggest a modification of the rule re the wrongful alienation of Inams referred to thus:—

"Where any Inam granted by Government for the upkeep of any religious or charitable institution is wrongfully alienated or has passed to the possession of a third party in any manner and the proceeds there of have been diverted from the purpose for which it had been granted, the Inam Officer may, after enquiry, direct that the property may be resumed and reinam ferred to the institution for whose benefit the Inam was intended. But in exceptional Cases, however if there are good and sufficient grounds for not enforcing the above rule, the Government

Government may make such orders as may be deemed proper upon a Special report being made by the said Forty Commissioners on the subject.

2 Secondly. It is to state that no provision is made for misappropriation of funds in endowments lands. There are many instances where funds have been invested in many instances alienated or misappropriated for purposes other than those for which they were intended. I think some provision is necessary to guard against the misappropriation of the produce of the lands

Some such provision as is hereafter suggested below may be made—

Where any lands granted by Parliament to any religious or Charitable institutions have been alienated or has passed to the possession of a third party—in any manner and the proceeds thereof have been Revested the..

it had been granted, the managers Officers may — after enquiry duely that the property — may be returned and re transferred to the institution for whose benefit the land was vested provided, however, that no person who has had adverse possession of property — for over 12 years shall be dispossessed of such possession"

3 In my humble opinion the above rules need no modification.

4 In this Connection I beg to state that the work thrown upon the Circle Cannot be satisfactorily attended to unless an intelligent Senior Clerk is given to him solely for the Managers work in Calcutta where there are more than 50 such institutions.

With reference to your letter No. 2207-214/Muz. 421-17-2 dated 6th March 1918, calling for my opinion and suggestions as well as the opinion of the Sub Division Officers and select Amildars in this District regarding the Draft Hand Book of Minor Muzrai Institutions in the State, I have the honour to forward herewith in original reports of the Sub Division Officers of the Maddagiri and Gubbi Sub Divisions and the Amildars of Tumkur, Sira, Pavagada, Gubbi, Maddagiri and Chickanaikanhalli Taluks, furnishing their opinions in the matter.

2. The Maddagiri Sub Division Officer says that the rules are quite workable and that the inspections proposed in the Hand Book (page 11 para 3) will result in the efficient management of the institutions but suggests that in such Taluks as have got many institutions, the institutions for inspection may be distributed between the Amildars and the Sub Division Officers, the latter being given only a minor portion.

3. The Gubbi Sub Division Officer is of opinion that the proviso under section 14 of the Muzrai Regulation (page 3 of the Hand Book) if given effect to might very seriously prejudice the interests of several institutions in the State. As regards the appointment of Dharmadarsis for Minor Muzrai Institutions, the Sub Division Officer states that the dual responsibility and control suggested by the expression "in consultation" (page 7 of the Hand Book) might prove inconvenient in its practical application should the Deputy Commissioner and the Muzrai Superintendent disagree.

4. The list of jewels, it is st ted, might be arranged to be kept under safe custody in the Treasury and not in the Amildars' personal custody as provided in para 7, page 12 of the Hand Book. The suggestions of the Sub Division Officer on other matters are:--

Period of the office of the Dharmadarsis (page 7 of the Hand Book) to be reduced from 5 to 3 years; orders of removal of the Dharmadarsis by the Deputy Commissioner to be final. The expression "all persons in charge of religious or charitable institutions (page 8) to be defined; One of the Dharmadarsis of the institution to be appointed as Secretary for the purpose of maintaining records of the institution as per para 9 of page 10 of the Hand Book; Orders of the Muzrai Superintendent in matters relating to the Regulation and improvement of the services conducted in the insitution as per para 2 of page 11 of the book to be communicated to the servants of the institutions through the Amildars and the Dharmadarsis; The list of jewels to be renewed under the previous sanction of the Deputy Commissioner in the cases where the properties are to the aggregate value of Rs.500/- and more and by the Amildars in other cases and not by the Amildar and the Dharmadarsis in all the cases as provided in para 7 of page 12 of the book; and these lists to be inspected when the Taluk Treasury is inspected by the Deputy Commissioner or his assistants.

5. The Amildar, Tumkur Taluk, is of opinion that the full power of appointing Dharmadarsis to minor institutions might be given to the Deputy Commissioner to avoid delay in consulting the Muzrai Superintendent. He represents that the inspection of all the minor institutions by the Amildars in their Taluks at least once a year as provided in para 3 page 11 of the Hand Book is not practicable and suggests that it may be ruled that the Amildars should inspect all minor institutions of the 2nd class as defined on page 1 of the book at least once in two years.

6. The Amildar, Gubbi Taluk, represents that it is not possible for the Amildars to inspect all the institutions in their Taluks in addition to their other multifarious duties and says that his Taluk alon alone has got 530 institutions for inspection and suggests ate officer may be appointed for the purpose.

7. The Amildar of Chickanaikanahalli Taluk reports that it is impossible for the Amildars to inspect all the minor institutions in their Taluks once a year in addition to their other duties and that the rules in other respects may be adopted.

8. The Amildars of Sira, Maddagiri and Pavagada Taluks are of opinion that the rules contained in the Hand Book are suitable and may be adopted.

9. I am of opinion that the appointment of Dharmadarsis for Minor Muzrai Institutions should be left to the sole discretion of Deputy Commissioners. The period of Office of Dharmadarsis should be three years only and not five. A convenor should be nominated. Orders of removal of Dharmadarsis should of course be subject to approval.

10 No papers should be kept in any Officer's personal custody. As suggested by the Sub Division Officer Kubbi lists of jewels may be kept in the Treasury.

11 It is not possible for the Amildars and Sub Division Officers to inspect all institutions once a year or once in three years. The inspection might be confined to institutions of the second class only.

I have the honour to be,

Submitting Official requesting the Draft Standard Book of Minor Irrigation Restrictions in the State -

Office of the Inter Sate Division
Amritsar District.
Dated, Amritsar, 21st March 1918.

From

A. Mitchiyagar Esq. B.A.,

To

The Deputy Commissioner
Amritsar District
Amritsar.

Sir,

In reply to your Memorandum No.
Muz-159 dated the 16th March 1918, calling for my opinion regarding the Draft Hand Book of Minor Mugni Restrictions in the State I have the honour to submit
as follows:-

Section II of the Hand Book being only a re-iteration of the Statutory Provisions of the Mugni Regulation. I presume that it does not admit of any discussion.

Yours

But, if I may be so permitted, would draw line to submit that the proviso under section 14 is not quite in agreement with the rules laid down in the Chief Commissioner's Notification No. 266 dated 17th November 1877, which has the force of law, and that further, the proviso, if given effect to might very seriously prejudice the interests of several institutions in the State.

Coming to Section III, I submit the following points for consideration:-

1. Appointment of Dharmadarsis.

The dual responsibility and control suggested by the Expression "in Consultation" might prove inconvenient in practical work; leading often to a fixture should the Deputy Commissioner and the Inspector Superintendent disagree.

2 Period of Office of Dharmadarsis.

5 years is rather a long period. Three years will be sufficient.

3. Removal of Dharmadarsis —

When the Appointment rests with the Charity Commissioner there is no reason, why a dismissal by him should not be final too. The matter is not after all so important as to render it worth while for the Government to entertain Appeals And should Appeals be allowed, the question of Appointment to the vacancy will become complicated as the vacancy might often have to be kept open pending final disposal of the Appeal.

4 Management

The Expression "all persons directing of religious or Charitable Institutions" may be defined so as

As to fix the responsibility of infraction and liability to pay the fines imposed for default or irregularity as also the steps to be taken for the recovery of the fine if not paid

5- Other records of the Institutions —

I believe these have to be maintained by the Dharmadarsis. If so, it will be convenient if one of the members be appointed Secretary to the Committee — at least by turns for a year at a time -

6 Duties and powers of Mugrai Officers —

Even in matters relating to the regulation and improvement of the services, it will be convenient if the Mugrai Superintendent sends his orders to the Servants of the Institutions - Through the Committee, who might communicate the same to to or through the Dharmadarsis.

7. List of Valuable Jewels —

I would suggest that the list be kept under safe custody in the Treasury and not in the Amildar's personal custody — It is not safe to allow constant renewals — even once in five years. The list should be continued until fully written up and every renewal thereof should be under the previous sanction of the Deputy Commissioner, who will verify the renewed list, either by himself or by an assistant Commissioner in Revenue or Treasury Charge — in all cases where the properties are to the aggregate value of Rupees 500 and more and by the Amildar in other cases —

These lists should also be inspected

inspected when the Salt Treasury is inspected by the Deputy Commissioner or his Assistants.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient Servant
A. Gallatin
Sub-Inspector Office.

Respectfully submitted -

The first five pages of the Rules do not call for any remarks.

Page 6 and the 1st para in page 7 are mere repetitions of sections in the Inspection Regulation - these may therefore be omitted

5 & 5 Inspection

For "minor" institutions it is stated in page 7 that Committees will be appointed by Dy Comrs in consultation with Inspecting Offr. Unless the Dy Comrs are solely authorized to appoint Committees delay cannot be avoided and consultation in such matters will only be formal and therefore Dy Comrs may be invested with such powers. But then the Regulation will have to be amended as it empowers only the Government to nominate Dharmadarsis etc. But the amendment is worth doing.

On page 11 it is laid down that the Amildar should inspect all minor institutions in the Taluk at least once a year in accordance with a programme arranged before hand. That is rather [illegible] By experience it is seen that programmes prepared before hand by Amildars are, as likely as not, altered several times before they are carried out owing to the nature of their work. It therefore does not appear to be practicable. It should be left to the discretion of Amildars. Minor institutions therein referred to will, it is believed, apply only to institutions of 2nd class and do not comprise those of the 3rd class. It appears reasonable to lay down that the Amildar should inspect all minor institutions of the 2nd class at least once in two years

Adverting to Government Proceedings No.2514-25/M.F.371-13-2 dated 3rd April 1917, classifying the Muzrai Institutions and laying down the general lines for the exercise of control and supervision over their work, I am directed to forward for your opinion and suggestions a copy of a draft hand book embodying subsidiary instructions for the management of Minor Muzrai Institutions.

2. The instructions aim at placing on a systematic basis all work relating to these Institutions. The brunt of the inspection work in this case is proposed to be thrown upon the Amildars and their inspection reports will be confined to a few salient points. The Dharmadarsis appointed to supervise the affairs of these Institutions will be given wider powers as regards internal management.

Hand-Book of Minor Muzrai Institutions.

V. B. BOOBBIAH & SONS, BANGALORE CITY.

DRAFT

HAND-BOOK OF MINOR MUZRAI INSTITUTIONS.

Definition.

Muzrai Institution is defined in Section 2 (1) of the Muzrai Regulation (VI of 1913) as follows :—

"Muzrai Institution" shall mean and include

(i) every temple, mosque, or other place of worship or religious service, any Chattra or house of feeding or rest for travellers without charge, or other institution of a religious or charitable nature, which is now actually in the sole charge of Government or for the support of which any annual grant in perpetuity is made from the public revenues, or an inam has been granted and is recognized and registered at the Inam Settlement as a devadaya or dharmadaya grant;

(ii) every institution of a religious or charitable nature which, under the provisions of this Regulation, has been taken under the sole management of Government, so long as it remains under such management.

Classification.

(G. O. $\frac{\text{No. 2514-25}}{\text{M. F. 371-13-2}}$ dated 2—4—1917.)

With a view to systematize the control and supervision over the work of Muzrai institutions, Government have classified them as follows :—

1st class :—Those having a total income from all sources exceeding Rs. 1000 per annum and a few others of special importance to be specified from time to time.

2nd class :—Those with an income ranging between Rs.100 and Rs.1000.

3rd class :—Those with an annual income of less than Rs. 100.

As regards the first class or Major institutions the actual management will continue as at present with the local revenue officers assisted by an advisory body of Dharmadarsis appointed by Government and the conduct of business of this body will be regulated by the "A" set of rules.

The second class or Minor institutions will be left to the care of Dharmadarsis, who will be appointed by Deputy Commissioners in consultation with the Muzrai Superintendent. They are to exercise all the powers and discharge all the duties defined in the "B" set of rules appended hereto. (Section IV infra).

II. Statutory provisions.

Enquiry regarding mis-management of the property of a religious or charitable institution.

(Sec. 8 of the Muzrai Regulation).

When it is brought to the notice of the Muzrai Officer that any religious or charitable institution dedicated for the benefit of the public or a defined section of the public or any property pertaining thereto is being grossly and persistently mismanaged, he may institute an inquiry into the truth of the allegations against the persons in possession and management of the property or the institution.

Order by Muzrai Officer in such cases.

(Sec. 9 of the Muzrai Regulation)

If it is proved that there has been gross and persistent mismanagement of the institution or of any property pertaining thereto, or any misapplication or misappropriation of any part of the property or any breach of trust in respect thereof, the Muzrai Officer may order

(i) that the institution may be taken under the management of Government ;

(ii) that the property which has been mismanaged or misappropriated may be delivered back either to the institution or to the possession of Government for the institution ;

(iii) that security may be given for the proper performance of the trust or management of the property ;

(iv) may frame a scheme for the proper management of the institution or management of its property and the application thereof ; and

(v) pass such other ancillary or necessary orders as the case may require in accordance with justice and equity.

Procedure in cases of wrongful alienation of property belonging to a religious or charitable institution.

(Sec. 10 of the Muzrai Regulation).

Where property belonging to a religious or charitable institution has been wrongfully alienated by way of sale, barter, mortgage, lease or otherwise within three years before the date of issuing a notice under this section, the Muzrai

Officer may, after giving notice to the alienee and holding a summary enquiry in accordance with the provisions of the Mysore Land Revenue Code, direct that possession be restored to the institution or that Government assume possession thereof on behalf of the institution.

Failure of the object of trust.
(Sec. 11 of the Muzrai Regulation).

Where the whole or part of the objects of a religious or charitable trust has failed, the Muzrai Officer may, subject to such general rules or special orders as Government may have issued, after notification in the official Gazette and hearing such parties as may appear in an enquiry, pass an order directing that the property or the proceeds thereof in respect of which the object has failed, may be utilized for some object of a similar nature, and may frame a scheme for administration thereof.

Power to make rules for the maintenance of accounts, etc , by persons in charge of the religious or charitable institutions.
(Sec. 13 of the Muzrai Regulation).

Government shall have power to make rules directing that persons in charge of religious or charitable institutions shall

(a) keep regular accounts of income and expenditure ;

(b) submit such returns and supply such information as may be necessary ;

(c) allow such inspection and verification as may be necessary.

And may, by said rules, prescribe a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees for any infraction thereof.

Wrongful alienation of inams granted for the upkeep of religious or charitable institutions.
(Sec. 14 of the Muzrai Regulation).

Where any inam granted by Government for the upkeep of any religious or charitable institution is wrongfully alienated or has passed to the possession of a third party in any manner and the proceeds thereof have been diverted from the purpose for which it had been granted, the Muzrai Officer may, after enquiry, direct that the property may be resumed and re-transferred to the institution for whose benefit the inam was intended, or may cancel the inam tenure and impose the full assessment due to Government under the provisions of the Land Revenue Code or cancel the tenure and direct the assessment recovered to be handed over for the benefit of the original institution.

Provided that no person who has had adverse possession of a property for a period of 12 years shall be deprived of such possession.

Restoration of alienated Devadaya Inams.

(Chief Commissioner's Notification No. 266 dated 17—11—1877).

All Inam lands granted to religious and charitable institutions, and for the maintenance of persons rendering service therein, will be confirmed and continued to them so long as the conditions of the grant are duly fulfilled.

Whenever it is found that such lands are diverted from the object for which they were granted by means of sale, (whether by private contract or by Court or Revenue sale) gift, mortgage or otherwise, the following rules shall be observed :—

A. Where such alienations were made prior to the 31st January 1853, but within 50 years computing the period of possession up to 14th December 1867, the lands or villages so alienated will, if not restored voluntarily by the holder, be confirmed subject to a jodi of one half the assessment (i.e., survey valuation) the jodi or assessment so imposed being payable direct to the institution from which they were alienated.

B. In the case of alienations made subsequent to 31st January 1853, a notice will be issued to the alienee or alienees requiring him or them to restore the lands to the institutions to which they belong, within 6 months from the date on which the notice is served on the alienee or alienees, or his or their agent or manager who may be in charge of the lands, and on default of compliance, the lands will be summarily resumed and restored to the institution by the Revenue authorities under instructions from the Inam Superintendent.

C. In the case of a simple mortgage or hypothecation of the inam lands, without possession, the transaction will be declared null and void in so far as it is intended to create a lien on the lands or to treat them as security for the loan advanced.

Lands held for 50 years and upwards, with or without titles, computing the period of possession up to 14th December 1867 will be confirmed to the holders on the terms prescribed in the Land Inam Rules, and will not be included in the title deed granted by the Inam Department to the religious institutions.

The alienations, whether made in favour of the disciples of the institution or others unconnected with it, will be treated alike, and disposed of under these rules.

Appointment of Dharmadarsis.
(Sec. 15 of the Muzrai Regulation).

Government may appoint Dharmadarsis to manage the affairs of religious or charitable institutions for such term and with such powers as may be prescribed and may frame rules for the conduct of business among them.

Investment of Dharmadarsis with the powers of a corporate person.
(Sec. 16 of the Muzrai Regulation).

Government may invest Dharmadarsis with the powers, functions and responsibilities of a corporate person, including power to hold and dispose of property and to sue and be sued.

Appointment of Committees with powers of management.
(Sec. 17 of the Muzrai Regulation).

Government may also appoint a Committee of persons chosen by election or otherwise with such powers of management and supervision as may be prescribed by rules, over one or more religious or charitable institutions.

Investment of trust money.
(Sec. 18 of the Muzrai Regulation).

It shall be lawful for any trustee or person or persons having the management or control of any religious or charitable institution to invest money belonging to the institution and not required for immediate use on any of the following securities, and on no others, viz.—

(a) In Promissory Notes, debentures, stock or other securities of the Government of India or Mysore;

(b) In stock or debentures of, or shares or as deposits in Railway or other Companies approved by Government ;

(c) On a first mortgage of immoveable property situate in Mysore ; provided that the property is not a lease-hold for a term of years and that the value of the property exceeds by one half, or if it consists of buildings exceeds by three-fourths, the mortgage money ; or (d) On any other security expressly authorised by the Instrument of Trust or approved by Government.

Period of office.	Every Dharmadarsi will hold office for ~~five~~ three years unless removed within such period for a sufficient reason.
Removal.	Any Dharmadarsi failing to attend more than three consecutive meetings of the Dharmadarsis or being absent from station for more than three months together will be liable to be removed. For any other sufficient reason to be recorded and communicated to the party concerned the Deputy Commissioner may, remove any Dharmadarsi from his office. An appeal against such an order will lie to Government in the Muzrai Department.
Appointment in case of vacancy.	Whenever a Dharmadarsi vacates his office or is removed from his office before the expiry of the term of five years, the vacancy may be filled up by the appointment of another person, such person holding the office only for the unexpired portion of the aforesaid term.
Notification of appointment and removal.	All appointments and removals of Dharmadarsis will be duly notified by the Deputy Commissioners in the Mysore Gazette.

IV MANAGEMENT.

What Dharmadarsis may do.

("B" Set of rules under Section 15 of the Muzrai Regulation).

Except in matters which may hereinafter be excepted and subject to the general or special direction of the Deputy Commissioner, Dharmadarsis shall exercise full powers of management in the affairs of the institutions placed in their charge.

In the following cases, powers of disposal will rest as heretofore in the Amildars or other Muzrai officers :—

(a) Conversion or disposal of any of the properties moveable or immoveable belonging to the institution.

(b) Investment of any institution funds.

(c) Incurring of any expenditure outside the scale fixed for the institution or appropriating funds provided for one purpose to another.

(d) Variation from mamul in the matter of observances of honours granted to individuals.

(e) Appointment, punishment, suspension or dismissal of Vahivatdar, Parpathegar, Shanbhog, Archak and similar offices of honour or in cases where a hereditary right is alleged.

Scale of expenditure.

The scale of expenditure referred to above, will be fixed in the first instance by the Deputy Commissioner, in consultation with the Muzrai Superintendent and will be revised every five years. Except when such general revision is taken in hand any changes that may be found necessary in actual working may be ordered by the Deputy Commissioner without previously consulting the Muzrai Superintendent.

In framing the scale of expenditure the following principles should be kept in view:—

(a) The Abhishekam, Naivedya and other regular Puja articles under Nityakatle should wherever practicable be fixed in kind and commuted to money equivalent at prevailing market rates.

(It is to be noted that the sanctity of an institution depends upon the due performance of Nityakatle services and the expenditure under this head should be the first charge upon the income of an institution.)

(c) Under establishment, the multiplicity of ill-paid servants should be diminished wherever practicable and the amounts thus set free should be utilized to provide suitable remuneration to the Pujari and other responsible and indispensable servants of the institution. Sufficient provision should be made for keeping the premises clean and tidy.

(d) A sufficient reserve from the estimated income should be kept so as to provide for the cost of establishment to be entertained in the various offices for the transaction of Muzrai business and audit (estimated to cost about 5 per cent of the income) and for the periodical repairs and improvements of the buildings and other properties of the institution, for which there should be a reserve of 10 to 15 per cent according to the condition of the buildings. Thus the reserve should ordinarily be from 15 to 20 per cent of the income.

(e) In drawing up the scale, the Dharmadarsis, if any, the leading inhabitants or devotees of the temple, the pujaris and other responsible servants of the institution should as far as possible be consulted. The scale should be in the appended form and should contain brief remarks explaining the demands made under the more important items, wherever necessary.

(f) In case the servants are in the enjoyment of temple lands in lieu either wholly or partly of services to be rendered, the same should be noted at foot with the nature of services and the estimated annual income from the property.

Subject to Rules under S. 13 of the Muzrai Regulation.

The Dharmadarsis shall be subject to the provisions of Section 13 of the Muzrai Regulation and the rules framed thereunder.

The rules are as follow:—

"The following accounts of income and expenditure shall regularly be kept by all persons in charge of religious or charitable institutions with an annual income of and above Rs.100:—

(a) Cash Book of daily transactions, Form No. I.

(b) Monthly statement of income and expenditure under the various heads, Form No. II.

~~Appointments to vacancies.~~
Servants of Religious Institutions

The technical servants of a temple are the Pujaries, Archaks, Agamiks who conduct the actual worship. These belong ordinarily to a special and numerically small class. Though in their case hereditary right is usually recognized, yet at the same time good character and knowledge of forms and rituals of worship are requisite qualifications and have to be insisted upon. In case an officiator should exhibit insufficient knowledge of the method and the texts he may be given time to ~~get up~~ acquire sufficient learning on the subject. A persistent repute for bad character or immoral life will be sufficient reason to remove an Archak from his post.

2. In the case of ~~xxx~~ vacancies arising, a Hakdar may, if a female or minor, be permitted to present a competent substitute within a reasonable time and on such mutual understanding as regards participation of profits as they may come to. If no such substitute is produced, the Muzraii Officer may proceed to appoint a duly qualified man and in so doing he is not bound to reserve any fraction of the emoluments to the Hakdar. The substitute so appointed will not be removable merely at the pleasure of the Hakdar.

3. The non-technical but superior appointments consist of all posts which can be held by the community in general, such as Sannidhi Paricharaks, Swayampakis, Mantrapushpa, Adhyapaka, Vedaparayana, Stotrapaṭa, Sripada etc. In these cases also a reputation for good character is essential and in posts where special qualifications are required the officiato have also to be duly qualified. The interests of the institution however do not require that special prominence should be given to Hakdari rights and unless such rights have been expressly created under ~~the~~ orders ~~of a duly constituted~~ issued by competent authority no special recognition to such claims should be allowed. It is to be observed that the emoluments are never sufficient to pay both the Hakdars and their substitutes if these are to be at all satisfactory. The following general considerations may be kept in view in filling up vacancies in these offices:--

(1) Preference may be given to members of the family of the last Hakdar according to propinquity, but no person will ordinarily be appointed who is not at the same time duly qualified, and also willing to enter upon his duties.

(2) The ~~cases~~ claims of persons obviously incompetent to perform the service will be passed over in favour of the next competent heir.

(3) In cases of minority of the heir, the registry may be deferred until such time as the minor proves himself to be competent to undertake the work.

4. As regards temporary vacancies the officiator will ordinarily be at liberty to produce a satisfactory substitute and will at the same time be personally responsible for the latter's good conduct and for the discharge of legal and customary conditions attaching to the office. When he is not able to do so, the Muzrai Officer may appoint a suitable person from an approved list maintained by Dharmadarsis of candidates available in the locality qualified to hold the various offices.

VI V. Duties and Powers of Muzrai Officers.

1. The Deputy Commissioners and subject to their control the Sub-Division Officers and Amildars will be held fully responsible for the Muzrai Administration of their respective charges and will be expected to insp institutions from time to time and s o that the endowments are properly . pplied.

2. The Muzrai Superintendent will also inspect the more important of the institutions from time to time and his powers of inspection and enquiry will be coordinate with those of the Deputy Commissioners

Amildar

3. It shall, however, be the clear duty of the Amildar to systematically inspect all the minor institutions in the Taluk at least once a year in accordance with a programme arranged beforehand and submit a report of his inspection in the appended form, (Form XII); one copy should be submitted to the Deputy Commissioner through the Sub-Division Officer and another to the Muzrai Superintendent. During the inspection, the Amildar should have the buildings and other properties examined, scrutinize the expenditure, check the accounts, enquire into the conduct of services and generally review the work of the Dharmadarsis.

4. The Sub-Division Officer should inspect as many of these institutions as possible in the course of the year but should arrange to inspect all of them at least once in three years and should submit copies of notes of such inspections periodically both to the Deputy Commissioner and to the Muzrai Superintendent.

5. The following registers shall be maintained in the Taluk Office :—

(i) Register of Minor Institutions.

(ii) Sanctioned scales of income and expenditure, one copy of the scales sanctioned for each institution should be retained in the Taluk and carefully preserved.

(iii) Register of Dharmadarsis, (Form No. XIII).

(iv) Register of jewels belonging to the various institutions of and above the value of Rs. 10, (Form No. XIV).

(v) Register of investments including Puduvats, (Form No. XV).

Note.—Items 2, 3, 4 and 5 may be written up in the same book separate for each institution and numbered serially according to the Institution Register and the abstracts of monthly expenditure received from the Dharmadarsis should be posted in that book, the entries for each year being noted in one page. The balance at the end of each year should be struck and the details of deposit noted.

6. The Register of Institutions has been prepared in the first instance in the Muzrai Superintendent's Office. After verification, the entries should be copied into a bound register with sufficient space below each institution to insert corrections from time to time. Copies of this Register should be maintained in the offices of the Sub-Division Officer, Deputy Commissioner and Muzrai Superintendent and a statement of corrections should be submitted once a year to these offices by the Amildar.

7. A consolidated list of the more valuable jewels, belonging to the various institutions should be kept ~~under the personal custody of the Amildar~~ in the Taluk Treasury and corrections should be made therein only at his instance. This Register should be rewritten once in five years and at each renewal the correctness of the list should be certified to by both the Amildar and Dharmadarsis concerned. As far as possible, the renewal should be made to synchronize with the appointment of a new set of Dharmadarsis. vide also detailed rules for the custody and inspection of *

* jewels, published with Govt order no 1833-43-Mug 535-09-16 dated 18th Jan 1919

8. The Amildar should submit a brief report on the administration of the Minor institutions within his charge not later than the end of August following, in duplicate, one to the Deputy Commissioner through the Sub-Division Officer and the other to the Muzrai Superintendent. A skeleton form of the Report is appended (Form No. XVI) to which may be added any notable information on important events during the year. The report should also review the work of the Dharmadarsis and should bring to notice any specially meritorious work done by them. The Deputy Commissioner and the Muzrai Superintendent should review and incorporate the information contained in these reports in their annual administration reports.

(e) Appointment, punishment, suspension or dismissal of Vahivatdar.

Scale of expenditure.

The scale of expenditure referred to above, will be fixed in the first instance by the Deputy Commissioner, in consultation with the Muzrai Superintendent and will be revised every five years. Except when such general revision is taken in hand, any changes that may be found necessary in actual working, may be ordered by the Deputy Commissioner without previously consulting the Muzrai Superintendent.

In framing the scale of expenditure the following principles should be kept in view:—

(a) The Abhishekam, Naivedya and other regular Puja articles under Nityakatle should wherever practicable be fixed in kind and commuted to money equivalent at prevailing market rates.

(It is to be noted that the sanctity of an institution depends upon the due performance of Nityakatle services and the expenditure under this head should be the first charge upon the income of an institution.)

(c) Under establishment the multiplicity of ill-paid servants should be diminished wherever practicable and the amounts thus set free should be utilized to provide suitable remuneration to the Pujari and other responsible and indispensable servants of the institution. Sufficient provision should be made for keeping the premises clean and tidy.

(d) A sufficient reserve from the estimated income should be kept so as to provide for the cost of establishment to be entertained in the various offices for the transaction of Muzrai business and audit (estimated to cost about 5 per cent of the income) and for the periodical repairs and improvements of the buildings and other properties of the institution, for which there should be a reserve of 10 to 15 per cent according to the condition of the buildings. Thus the reserve should ordinarily be from 15 to 20 per cent of the income.

(e) In drawing up the scale, the Dharmadarsis, if any, the leading inhabitants or devotees of the temple, the pujaris and other responsible servants of the institution should as far as possible be consulted. The scale should be in the appended form and should contain brief remarks explaining the demands made under the more important items, wherever necessary.

(f) In case the servants are in the enjoyment of temple lands in lieu either wholly or partly of services to be rendered, the same should be noted at foot with the nature of services and the estimated annual income from the property.

Subject to Rules under Section 13 of the Muzrai Regulation.

The Dharmadarsis shall be subject to the provisions of Section 13 of the Muzrai Regulation and the rules framed thereunder.

The rules are as follow:—

"The following accounts of income and expenditure shall regularly be kept by all persons in charge of religious or charitable institutions with an annual income of and above Rs. 100:—

(a) Cash Book of daily transactions, Form No. I.

(b) Monthly statement of income and expenditure under the various heads, Form No. II.

(c) Stock Register of movable properties belonging to the institution, Form No. III.

(d) Register of immovable properties of the institution, Form No. IV.

(e) Jamakarch account of articles of provision, etc., Form No. V.

An extract from the monthly statement (Form No. II) shall be submitted to the Deputy Commissioner through the Amildar of the Taluk within a week after the close of the month The Dharmadarsis or other body of persons in charge of the institution should meet once every half-year, within fifteen days after the half-year closes, i.e., before 15th January and 15th July and audit the accounts of the Institution, and also adopt a brief report on the conduct of the institution with a statement of income and expenditure under the various heads which should be submitted to the Muzrai Officer within the fortnight following.

All Revenue Officers of Government of and above the grade of Amildars shall be entitled to inspect the institution, and enquire into its administration. Every facility should be furnished by the persons in charge to these Officers in the conduct of their inspection and in the scrutiny of the accounts and registers maintained.

In case of default or irregularity in the maintenance of accounts and registers under para 1 or in the due submission of the monthly return and half-yearly report under para 2, or failure to render all necessary facilities for the conduct of inspection and verification under para 3, a summary enquiry will be held by the Muzrai Officer who may inflict a penalty not exceeding twenty-five rupees for each infraction.

Conduct meetings

Dharmadarsis shall meet at least once a month or oftener, if necessary, and shall keep a record of their proceedings, a copy of the proceedings being submitted to the Amildar.

Supervise worship.

They should see that the daily and periodical ceremonies are performed at the regulated times and in the prescribed manner and that the amounts assigned therefor are properly utilised. For this purpose the Dharmadarsis may arrange to visit the institutions by turns or apportion the supervision in compartments.

Maintain premises in repair.

It shall be the duty of the Dharmadarsis to arrange to maintain in good repair the buildings and other appurtenances of the institution and to keep the premises clean and tidy.

Make the institution useful.

7. Every opportunity should be taken advantage of to make the institution as useful as possible to the public.

Maintain inspection and Visitors' Books.

8. An inspection book for noting remarks of officers of and above the grade of Amildars and a Visitors' book for entry of suggestions by respectable gentlemen visiting the institution should be maintained. Extracts of the more notable suggestions should be sent to the Amildar once in six months with a note of action taken.

and other records of the institution.

9. In addition to the accounts prescribed under Section 13 of the Muzrai Regulation, the following records should also be kept and registers maintained:—

(a) Rules of management of minor Muzrai institutions.
(b) Rules regarding custody of jewels.
(c) Minutes of proceedings.
(d) Rules of business, if any, and programme of supervision of work.
(e) Scale Register.
(f) Attendance Register of servants (Form No. VII).
(g) Sevartha and Kanike Register (Form No. VIII).
(h) Puduvat Register (Form No. IX).
(i) Register of Remittances to Treasury (Form No. X).

Annual report

10. Soon after the close of the year, a report should be submitted to the Amildar, (Form No. XI) on the administration of the institution together with abstract of income and expenditure and information regarding accretions and losses to property, state of building, improvement of services and popularity and other notable points.

V. SERVANTS OF MUZRAI INSTITUTIONS.

The technical servants of a temple are the Pujaris, Archaks, Agamiks who conduct the actual worship. These belong ordinarily to a special and numerically small class. Though in their case hereditary right is usually recognized, yet at the same time good character and knowledge of forms and rituals of worship are requisite qualifications and have to be insisted upon. In case an officiator should exhibit insufficient knowledge of the method and the texts he may be given time to acquire sufficient learning on the subject. A persistent repute for bad character or immoral life will be sufficient reason to remove an Archak from his post.

2. In the case of vacancies arising, a Hakdar may, if a female or minor, be permitted to present a competent substitute within a reasonable time and on such mutual understanding as regards participation of profits as they may come to If no such substitute is produced, the Muzrai Officer may proceed to appoint a duly qualified man and in so doing he is not bound to reserve any fraction of the emoluments to the Hakdar. The substitute so appointed will not be removed merely at the pleasure of the Hakdar.

The non-technical but superior appointments consist of all posts which can be held by the community in general, such as Sannidhi Paricharaks, Swayampakis, Mantrapushpa, Adhyapaka, Vedaparayana, Stotrapatha, Sripada, etc. In these cases also a reputation for good character is essential and in posts where special qualifications are required the officiators have also to be duly qualified. The interests of the institution, however, do not require that special prominence should be given to Hakdari rights and unless such rights have been expressly created under orders passed by competent authority no special recognition to such claims should be allowed. It is to be observed that the emoluments are never sufficient to pay both the Hakdars and their substitutes if these are to be at all satisfactory. The following general considerations may be kept in view in filling up vacancies in these offices:—

(1) Preference may be given to members of the family of the last Hakdar according to propinquity, but no person will ordinarily be appointed who is not at the same time duly qualified and also willing to enter upon his duties.

(2) The claims of persons obviously incompetent to perform the service will be passed over in favour of the next competent heir.

(3) In cases of minority of the heir, the registry may be deferred until such time as the minor proves himself to be competent to undertake the work.

As regards temporary vacancies the officiatory will ordinarily be at liberty to produce a satisfactory substitute and will, at the same time, be personally responsible for the latter's good conduct and for the discharge of legal and customary conditions attaching to the office. When he is not able to do so, the Muzrai Officer may appoint a suitable person from an approved list maintained by Dharmadarsis of candidates available in the locality qualified to hold the various offices

VI DUTIES AND POWERS OF MUZRAI OFFICERS.

1. The Deputy Commissioners and subject to their control the Sub-Division Officers and Amildars will be held fully responsible for the Muzrai Administration of their respective charges and will be expected to inspect institutions from time to time and see that the endowments are properly applied.

2. The Muzrai Superintendent will also inspect the more important of the institutions from time to time and his powers of inspection and enquiry will be co-ordinate with those of the Deputy Commissioners.

Amildar.

3. It shall, however, be the clear duty of the Amildar to systematically inspect all the minor institutions in the Taluk at least once a year in accordance with a programme arranged beforehand and submit a report of his inspection in the appended form (Form XII); one copy should be submitted to the Deputy Commissioner through the Sub-Division Officer and another to the Muzrai Superintendent. During the inspection, the Amildar should have the buildings and other properties examined, scrutinize the expenditure, check the accounts, enquire into the conduct of services and generally review the work of the Dharmadarsis.

4. The Sub-Division Officer should inspect as many of these institutions as possible in the course of the year but should arrange to inspect all of them at least once in three years and should submit copies of notes of such inspections periodically both to the Deputy Commissioner and to the Muzrai Superintendent.

5. The following registers shall be maintained in the Taluk Office:—

(i) Register of Minor Institutions.

(ii) Sanctioned scales of income and expenditure, one copy of the scales sanctioned for each institution should be retained in the taluk and carefully preserved.

(iii) Register of Dharmadarsis (Form No. XIII).

(iv) Register of jewels belonging to the various institutions of and above the value of Rs. 10 (Form No. XIV).

(v) Register of investments including Puduvats (Form No. XV).

Note —Items 2, 3, 4 and 5 may be written up in the same book separate for each institution and numbered serially according to the Institution Register and the abstracts of monthly expenditure received from the Dharmadarsis should be posted in that book, the entries for each year being noted in one page. The balance at the end of each year should be struck and the details of deposit noted.

6. The Register of Institutions has been prepared in the first instance in the Muzrai Superintendent's office. After verification, the entries should be copied into a bound register with sufficient space below each institution to insert corrections from time to time. Copies of this register should be maintained in the offices of the Sub-Division Officer, Deputy Commissioner and Muzrai Superintendent and a statement of corrections should be submitted once a year to these offices by the Amildar.

7. A consolidated list of the more valuable jewels, belonging to the various institutions should be kept in the Taluk Treasury and corrections should be made therein only at the instance of the Amildar. This Register should be re-written once in five years and at each renewal the correctness of the list should be certified to by both the Amildar and Dharmadarsis concerned. As far as possible the renewal should be made to synchronize with the appointment of new set of Dharmadarsis. Vide also detailed rules for the custody and inspection of jewels published with Government Order No 1835-43—M. F. 535-09-16, dated 18th January 1919.

8 The Amildar should submit a brief report on the administration of the minor institutions within his charge not later than the end of August following, in duplicate, one to the Deputy Commissioner through the Sub-Division Officer and the other to the Muzrai Superintendent A skeleton form of the report is appended (Form No XVI) to which may be added any notable information on important events during the year. The report should also review the work of the Dharmadarsis and should bring to notice any specially meritorious work done by them The Deputy Commissioner and the Muzrai Superintendent should review and incorporate the information contained in these reports in their annual administration reports.
